Government Experiments With Canadian Pacific Steamships

"Scotian" leaving Southampton Harbor, en route for India.

The "Scotian," which left Southampton Docks recently, selected the Canadian Pacific liners "Scotian" and "Victorian"—both engaged in the North Atlantic trade—for use as troopships during the coming season, and the "Scotian" has already been altered and refitted for this special work.

The Major of Southampton, a number of Government officials and officials connected with the Canadian Pacific Steamships, Limited, have visited the "Scotian," and expressed the opinion that the difficulties in the way of providing suitable accommodation had been overcome, and that, when the vessel was put to the practical test, the experiment would prove successful. The troop decks are spacious and well ventilated. Multitudes of fans and an auxiliary ventilating system have been installed to keep the cabins cool. Notwithstanding all this, it was stated that a comparatively small sum would be required to re-equip the vessel for her ordinary trade and afterwards to convert her when required into a troopship.

During the war the "Scotian" took part in the Gallipoli operation, she steamed 125,000 miles on Government service, and carried 56,000 officers and men.

HOW TO COOK A HUSBAND

A good many husbands are entirely neglected by their wives. It is cooking, and so are not tender and good.
Some women keep their husbands constantly in hot water; others treat them
as if they were a piece of property.
If you follow these directions you will find him very disagreeable, agreeing with
you, and he will keep on doing so
until you want to leave him.

that contentions could kiss, but on no account add any pepper or vinegar. A little spice improves him, but must be used with judgment.
Do not try him with something sharp
to see if he is becoming tender, stir him gently lest he be too long and become fat and tasteless. If you follow these directions you will find
him very disagreeable, agreeing with
you, and he will keep on doing so
until you want to leave him.

exceptional spell, for this time of the zero.

ber 28th, for the purpose of discussing finances, and settling the reports of numbers as they did at the last last council meeting, when several was abroad.

The St. Michael's Church Ladies Guild have generously offered to ladies the ladies dressing room in the Memorial Hall.

We regret to note in our Strathmore
items this week, the death of Mr.
Domen McEwan, second son of Mr.
and Mrs. McEwan. The deceased was among the first to volunteer from Strathmore district for the war. He was seriously wounded, and returned to Canada in 1917, and after several years of suffering and endeavor, he has now paid the penalty of sacrifice.
The greatest sympathy is felt with Mr. and Mrs. McEwan in their bereavement.

As will be seen from our article to stick to facts. "Dates" are not given as far as the newspaper and the majority of its readers are con-

Work on the flooding of the Strath-of 619 bushels of spring wheat is indicated by the province's reports which have been received from all parts of the province by the provincial Department of Agriculture. The average is not final, being based upon only a partial list of threshing returns, but are considered fairly representative of the Alberta crop area. The spring estimate was eleven bushels. The average of oats at 28.37 bushels, and barley, 22.51 bushels.

STOP PAYING FANCY PRICES FOR PHONOGRAPHS

The "Beethoven Phonograph" is the equal to the highest priced machines on the market, and only costs $120.00.

The reason for this low price is when you buy a Beethoven you pay for the phonograph only, and not for the elaborate advertising which is the case, with other machines.

With the "Beethoven" you get real value for your money.

BOORTZ AND McDONALD

Friendship—Yes! But—

"The Bill will not let in Canadian wheat, but will save to the American farmer the right to raise a basket of wheat of transferring that right to Canada." Mr. Forde, in introducing the Forde Emergency Tariff Bill which has shut millions of dollars worth of Canadian foodstuffs out of the United States market.

WHILE ties of friendship unite Canada and the United States, the attitude of Uncle Sam in that of "Business First" and Canada cannot and should not hope for any consideration from the United States where the interests of the farmers and business people of that country are involved.

Uncle Sam has built the Forde Tariff directly against Canadian agriculture, and now additional tariff proposals are now under consideration to shut out from the United States Canadian goods of every kind.

These measures are due to the insistence of the American farmer that the United States market shall be retained exclusively for him and that the influx of Canadian farm products into that country must cease. They are also due to a like insistence of United States manufacturers and workers, who have seen their country develop tremendously and grow rich under a protective tariff, and who believe that a still further increase in tariff is the only means of assuring continued prosperity.

CONTRAST THE ATTITUDE OF THE UNITED STATES LEADERS WITH THAT OF CANADA'S WOULD-BE LEADERS, CRERAR AND KING

Crerar proposes to allow American goods to enter the Canadian market free of duty. King proposes that the present reasonable tariff on the products of the American factory and farm shall be greatly reduced, and that the home market of the Canadian farmer and manufacturer shall be thrown open to our southern neighbor, in the face of the United States Emergency tariff, which practically shuts out Canadian farm products from these markets, and also in the face of the permanent tariff now under consideration at Washington, which gives every promise of being even more drastic than the Emergency Tariff so far as our products are concerned.

In view of the attitude of the United States, what folly it is for Crerar and King to propose throwing open the Canadian market to a flood of both agricultural and manufactured products of the United States when there is not the slightest possibility of any compensative advantage to Canada.

Does any sane Canadian believe that Crerar or King, but in hand, could persuade the United States Government to completely reverse its tariff policies and agree to reciprocal trade in face of American public demand for a high protective tariff?

The people of the United States conduct their affairs and protect themselves by the principle that "Business is business." Why should Canada do otherwise?

Unlike Crerar or King, McNEIL stands firm for a reasonable tariff to protect all our industries—those of the farm, the sea, the mine, the forest, the factory, and for the building up of a bigger and better Canada through the full development of the home market.

FRIENDSHIP WITH THE UNITED STATES? YES, BY ALL MEANS! BUT—

let us defend our home market, our industries, our farms, our workmen, our homes by the same means as are used so effectively against us.

Let us work out our own destiny—that of a strong, self-contained nation within the British Empire group of Nations, courageous, masterful, self-reliant.

THINKS TOWNS SHOULD GO WITH FARMER

Editor, Strathmore Standard.

Dear Sir: May I relieve myself on a certain subject that has been puzzling me for some time; that is the vote of the small towns in the country districts? I may be wrong but I think the majority of the small towns in the last provincial election voted against the farmer. Why should this be so? I myself am at a loss to understand this attitude toward the farmer. In the first place, one would think these towns in the rural districts would share in their strength their influence, and their vote in the direction from whence comes their help, their livelihood, and in fact their life, namely on the side of the farmer. One of our business men may take issue with the above statement. Well, let us see, there are in Strathmore about seven hundred inhabitants. In the same town there are three grocery stores, two hardware stores, one has been store on hardware, another has many other stores. The question is:

"Would these seven hundred inhabitants pay one-hundredth part of the expense and maintenance of these various business places?" No, and certainly, they would not; then the only conclusion we can come to is that these business places are kept up by the farmer. The question is, does it not seem to any sensible being most incongruous on the part of those in business men to vote against the interest of the farmer, as by so doing they vote against their own interest.

A farmer told me he had a conversation with one of the business men in Strathmore. This business man seems to favor Mr. Smith, the conservative candidate; during the conversation the farmer told the business man that if he got to know of any tradesman voting against the farmer's interest, he got no more of his trade. I must admit, it is carrying the thing a little too far, every man has a right to vote according to his own conscience. But what the business man's conscience does not lead him in the direction from which comes his livelihood.

Mr. editor, I am afraid some of us are apt to go contrary to our conscience; then again some may say, I have always been liberal or conservative, and I cannot see any reason to change my opinions. I must admit, habits, ideas, and opinions formed in youth are extremely hard to bend away from. Things are changing, always changing, and it does not seem so hard for us to adopt ourselves to the changes rapidly of politics. I can remember when I rode an old bicycle, a bone shaker we used to call them, then a rubber tire, then a pneumatic tire, then I bought me a Ford car, then a Gray Dair; it things keep going as they are going, the next conveyance will be "something." These changes did not disturb me in the least as I had an idea they were for the better, and they proved to be so.

I would ask my friends can not adopt themselves to the political changes that are coming about, movements, and are sure to come, whether we like it or not? The old political machines have done good work, the old machine did the same, but the new come and took their place. So the present progressive movement has come to take the place of the old machine party. It may not be perfect, but it is growing in that direction. When it has served its time, who knows, some other system may advance, and ahead of the times, may take its place. I would ask everyone to give this matter serious consideration, and throw in their lot with right, and on their best to get a body of men and women who will govern the country for the good of all, and not the few. It seems to me that all we have got during the last few years by both parties is a huge burden of debt, and it looks to me, the common people are bearing the greater part of that burden.

—H. W. GOTHARD, Ardmore, Alta.

"THE BEAUTIFUL ISLE OF SOMEWHERE"

There's a beautiful Isle of Somewhere For you as well as for me. I've wandered far and searched everywhere. I've wondered where it can be.

But if we still keep on striving, This world will never be our home. Where one may find ease of heart, And rest for weary mind.

It may be in a beautiful well written, in a beautiful one well made. It may be in helping others. Or in a task well done.

The gladness we bring to others. The helping hand, the cheer that will bring us one true master. The share of that beautiful life. And when at last we find it, And as it's days draw near. We shall be always happy. In the beautiful Isle of Somewhere. —P. C. BATHURST, Canby, Idaho.

Facts Regarding The Grain Business

By CHARLES BIRKETT
(Special to the Standard)

Article IX TRACK BUYERS

The Canada Grain Act states that a track buyer is any person, firm or corporation who buys grain in car loads on track. The Act does not say that he can buy grain in the granary on the farm, or the street or in an elevator. It has to be in car loads on track and a track buyer is licensed and bonded by the Board of Grain Commissioners to do this specific work.

During recent years a large number of producers have been in the habit of contracting to sell their grain when it is available, and getting it delivered during some subsequent month in the fall. A track buyer is not licensed to do this. This is the work of a voluntary grain dealer, which we will discuss later. The charter of grain should thoroughly understand this and bear it in mind because if the provisions of the Act are not carried out and a track buyer gets into financial difficulties, there is no recourse under the law with the Board of Grain Commissioners.

It is the duty of the track buyer to deliver to the buyer just as much as the arrangements for the sale are made, a track purchase note. This purchase note gives the line number of the track, buyer, the place and date, and must also show the car number and the purchase price per bushel based on No. 1 Northern, the price is generally based on No. 1 Northern Wheat, and if there is any discount from this grade the price is also reduced. The track note reads: "The spread between grades to be observed by the elevator on day of marketing." The amount that, what over the spread is between, say No. 1 and No. 2 Northern on the day that the sale is marketed, this spread will govern.

It is essential, and cannot repeat it too often, that the track purchase note must be filled out in its entirety under no circumstances must the car number be omitted. This is obvious. If the actual car number is in the track purchase note, the car must necessarily be on track.

A further duty of the track buyer is to deliver to the seller of the grain the proceeds of the sale. If the proceeds of the receipt of the expense bill from the terminal elevator and the official inspection had sought certain. If the elevator does not receive the final statement after the receipt of these documents, he should find out the reason why and if it is not satisfactory he should communicate immediately with the Board of Grain Commissioners. For William, Fleming, it is to remember that when a producer sells to a track buyer and receives a track purchase note, he must be sure that the grain is actually in a car on track so that the car number can be inserted in the purchase note.

Primary Grain Dealers

A primary grain dealer must be licensed and bonded the same as a commission merchant, track buyer or country elevator operator. A primary grain dealer is a person, firm or corporation who contracts with the shipper to handle grain not already received in the elevator. These dealers can purchase grain in the granary in the elevator, or on future delivery, and the bond will protect the shipper if anything should happen. If you do not sell on commission, or sell to a track buyer, be sure that the person who is dealing with you is a licensed primary grain dealer.

Next week we will take up the subject of a commission merchant.

RED CROSS NOTES

Through the cooperation of the Provincial Government, the Red Cross Society has been able to complete plans for the reopening of the Hospital at Edmonton. This institution was closed owing to crop conditions in that district and the people contented at the Red Cross to take care of the Red Cross. This week relieving nurses and supplies and the institution, which has a capacity of 150 beds, will be reopened under their administration.

The Provincial Headquarters is still busy sorting and distributing clothes in the areas where relief is needed. Officials said today that further supplies of old clothes will be brought received at all times. These should be sent to the Provincial Headquarters, Red Cross, O'Sullivan Block, Calgary.

Mr. A. Rago has been engaged by Mr. Colquhoun to look after his stock during the latter's absence in the city.

The school children have already commenced to practice for their Christmas entertainment.

Two or three churches have been given recently in honor of Miss Lauretta Sill, whose marriage is to take place in the near future.

The Hon. Duncan Stewart, Liberal candidate for East Calgary, addressed a small gathering in Irricana on Friday evening.

KEEP GOING

When things go wrong as they sometimes will,
And the road your're traveling seems of yours.

When the funds are low and the times are tight,
And you want to turn back for sight;

When your eye is keener than yours
and
And if you must, but don't you quit.

Life is queer with its twists and turns,
As everyone of us sometimes finds,
A crossing of a bridge before
We have a falling hand about;

When it seems like you have been
swept Don't you get up though the pace seems
slow.

You may succeed with another
try,
Often the goal is nearer than
You are aware of in the morning
When the struggle has begun.

When it seems like you have been
swept
Don't you get up though the pace seems
slow.

When it seems like you have been
swept
Don't you get up though the pace seems
slow.

When it seems like you have been
swept
Don't you get up though the pace seems
slow.

When it seems like you have been
swept
Don't you get up though the pace seems
slow.

When it seems like you have been

Don't you get up though the pace seems

CARLELAND NOTES

In spite of it being a cold and stormy night, the church was packed on the evening of the 26th to hear Mr. Wm. Irvine, the Liberal candidate for East Calgary.

Mr. Irvine received himself to be a just, clean speaker, and for his bold and audience for an hour and a half with a speech that was convincing, witty, and eloquent.

The Ladies Aid met in the church on Thursday, the 27th, when there were a dozen present. Mrs. Row and Mrs. Macpherson presided over the entertainment. Committees were appointed to take charge of arrangements for the Bazaar on Saturday the 28th. Next comes the celebration of the 25th week.

Mr. J. H. Macpherson completed the deal for the purchase of the butcher shop last week.

On Saturday last Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stoll, their two daughters and a son, together with T. Henshaw and A. Porter arrived from England, landing in Carleland at 12:30 a.m. while the thermometer was registering 30 below. Later in the day they proceeded to the home of Mrs. J. Martin who is a sister of Mr. Stoll.

Mr. F. J. Stinson was laid up for several days last week with a bad cold.

The Carleland Minstrels are putting on another evening the middle of December.

Monro, Ont.—The extremely heavy shipment of mail from the West, together with another large volume from United States points, has enabled this post to set up a new record for the month of November.

It is estimated that the quantity of mail shipped out by the close of November will be 120,000,000 bushels.

Which?

Crerar

The head of a great trading organization which unites its trading with its politics—a political theorist—has lost control of the political movement he started and is being driven into impossible positions by class rule extremists. He is under the domination of Wood, the political boss of Alberta. He would give effect to Free Trade, thus destroying Canada's industrial and economic structure.

A Vote for Crerar is a Vote for Chaos

King

So evasive that nobody knows where he actually stands on the great issues of the day. Fits his policy to suit his audiences. Talks Free Trade to the West and Protection to the East. Specializes in high-sounding phraseology. His party is pledged to a large measure of Free Trade, but also to suggest new methods of obtaining necessary National Revenues.

A Vote for King is a Plunge in the Dark

Meighen

Easily the outstanding figure in Canadian public life to-day, and the only real Leader in sight. Able, forceful, courageous, and upright in character. A statesman of demonstrated ability with broad National and Imperial vision and an unassailable record. Stands firm for the maintenance of a reasonable Protective Tariff, and aims to provide the maximum amount of profitable labour for all.

a child taking its first steps. They had had tentacles and tails, but that did not mean failure.

Taxiff Was the Main Issue

The Government was trying to make them believe that the taxiff was the main issue. The taxiff had been the issue put forward in every election for forty years past, but whenever party got in there was little or no change in it. Instead of electing a man whom they would not probably see for the next five years, under the new plan they would elect a man and give him his orders. This was the farmers' policy. They would keep control of the candidate after he got to Ottawa. The only way they could get the legislation they wanted was to get people in whom they could confide. They were now standing at the grave of the old party system.
It was dead, though not yet buried.
Twenty-three men under the present system controlled both political parties and had the grip of the whole commercial system of the country.
They were now trying to take the power out of the hands of these men.
This was the issue of the election.

In Sympathy With Soldiers' Claims

Mr. Irvine then proceeded to deal with some of the arguments put out by the rival candidates, and referring to the charges made against him stated that the reference to finding the land had reference to land held out of call tation by speculators, etc. The soldiers' settlement scheme, as it was at present, was a good thing for the little interests, but a poor thing for the returning soldier.
